

Wisconsin's No-Call list was intended to protect the little guy from incessant invasions of privacy by business interests. I am opposed to weakening it in any way, shape, or form. In fact, I think it should be strengthened. I have to answer a telephone at work all day and provide customer assistance to people who can be very unhappy campers. When I get home, I do NOT want my phone ringing off the hook with unwanted calls from telemarketers, including concerns I may have done business with in the past. I have a home phone for my convenience, not anybody else.
